

A cushy number

The venerable family furniture-makers Wesley-Barrell have just launched a new selection of summer-themed tapestry feather cushions. Choose from butterflies, bunches of lilac flowers and bright, striped fish. Fish cushion, £60; wesley-barrell.co.uk

NEXT WEDNESDAY'S 'JEWELS' SALE AT CHRISTIE'S South Kensington also includes an amazing selection of Hermès handbags. Look out for a 1970s crocodile wallet and a limited-edition tricolour calf-leather Kelly bag from 1998. 020 7752 3121

STELLA LOVES...

Compiled by Nisha Lilla Dutt

THIS WEEK'S MUST DO, SEE, BUY 11 July 2010

The Whitechapel Gallery in east London has just unveiled Britain's first major exhibition of the American painter ALICE NEEL. Neel is particularly celebrated for her portraits of artists and writers (including Andy Warhol), but she also painted tender images of her friends and family. Until 17 September, £8.50; 0844 412 4309

Two fragrance 'noses' (including the creator of Guerlain's Aqua Allegoria) have teamed up to produce MADE IN ITALY EMOTIONAL OLFACTIVE LANDSCAPES. These beguiling scents are inspired by five regions - such as Sicily, containing citrus, and Venice, which is woody - and come in dreamy packaging featuring Polaroid snaps. Rome, £78 for 100ml eau de parfum, from Harvey Nichols (020 7235 5000)

ECO BEACH

Katharine Hamnett, the queen of eco-design, has created a capsule collection of - what else? - eco-friendly beachwear for the Italian online boutique yoox.com. The range covers seaside essentials from bags to bikinis, all made with organic or sustainable fabrics. Cotton towelling bag, £69, and cotton hooded jumpsuit, £85, by Katharine Hamnett Beach for Yooxygen

