Kenneth Jay Lane with Nan Kempner, 1989

Kenneth Jay Lane necklace, $138. yoox.com.

KENNETH JAY LANE ON YOOX

Costume jewelry really does make women happy," proclaims famed accessories doyen Kenneth Jay Lane. "Take the Duchess of Windsor. She had a huge collection of precious jewelry, but when she died, they found 28 designs of mine in her closet."

The concept of mixing high and low is timeless, and Lane's storied appeal is universal, adored as he was by Jackie O., Nan Kempner, Diana Vreeland, and countless other icons. Starting in March, the king of bling's splashy pieces (both vintage and new designs), including big bauble rings, chunky coral bracelets, and strands of fab faux pearls, will be available in the Fake Jewels, Real Glamour sale on yoox.com. Even if Lane's assertion about faking it is true, he certainly is the real thing. A.M.

TARGET REISSUES DESIGNER FAVORITES

Some things truly are better the second time around.

Such is the case for the 34 rereleased dresses from Target's Go International designers. Affordable looks from Tracy Feith, Rodarte, and Proenza Schouler will reappear in March. We love this vivid frock from the master of poppy prints, Thakoon Panichgul.
